

LIFESTYLE ASIA

LIFESTYLE ASIA

Embarking on a sailing trip in a private yacht doesn't mean the group has to be large. Small groups of around 8-14 friends or family members, can take their pick from some of the best private yacht charters, to sail on Southeast Asian waters in utmost comfort.

The vessels range from traditionally designed phinisi yachts to ultra-advanced superyachts. Of course, some are speedy while others are not. So, charterers have a choice regarding how, and whether quickly or leisurely, do patrons wish to experience their charter trip.

Picking the best luxury yacht charter ideal for small groups for a Southeast Asian trip

Whichever boat one picks, highest levels of comfort, pleasure and adventure is guaranteed. Each of these yachts is equipped with the most advanced toys such as jet skis and diving gears for its guests. They offer outstanding amenities such as jacuzzi and lounges, helping everyone on board unwind in various ways. Add to it, the dreamy cabins and delightful cuisines.

The vessels can take guests to white sandy beaches, clear blue waters, rich green tropical islands, secret dive sites and underwater marine life that underlines the beauty of top Southeast Asian destinations.

Any of these yachts can be booked via their official operators or yacht charter services such as Burgess, Northrop and Johnson, Y.co, Bluewater Yachting and IYC. Listed below

LIFESTYLE ASIA

It is the largest and most luxurious Indonesian phinisi yacht in the world. It is perfect as a private yacht for small group charters.

The 55-metre-long luxury liveaboard has nine spacious suites, each with its own private en-suite bathroom, across four decks. It houses a living space of 900 square metres too. The many amenities on board include spa, open-air theatre, rooftop yoga deck and daybeds on the decks for relaxation, as the waves roll by.

The vessel is available for sailing round the year to top Indonesian island destinations such as Raja Ampat, Maluku Islands (Spice Islands) and most importantly Komodo National Park, where one can see the endangered Komodo dragons.

Guests can dive in the turquoise waters housing coral reefs, walk along the beaches, trek through the biodiversity-rich islands, and enjoy water rides on kayaks, wakeboards or waterboards. Prana has a capacity for 18 guests, and a 20-member crew taking care of all the needs.
